Message from the Director

It is my great honour to invite students from around the world to study at Eurospeak Language School. My goal is for every student to feel welcome and to learn valuable skills that will take them far in life.

When I took over the school in 2008, it had already been a pillar of the Reading community since 1991. I was determined to make the school's success grow even more, so in 2019, we opened the Southampton branch. My vision for the school is, and always has been, to create an open and welcoming atmosphere where students can be themselves and get closer to their personal and professional goals. What makes Eurospeak stand out is not only the high-quality educational content of the classes, but the great people who are part of the community.

The teachers and admin teams in both locations make the schools friendly and fun places to be, and that is the culture I've tried to foster over the years. With such a great mix of cultures, there is never a dull moment, from the engaging class activities to the fun social activities organised by the school. People at Eurospeak are encouraged to share their cultures and accept others. This has led to an inclusive and diverse environment, rich in ideas and attitudes where everyone is welcome.

With that in mind, I encourage you to consider taking the next step and enrol on a course at Eurospeak. Come and be a part of the educational community that can change your life forever.

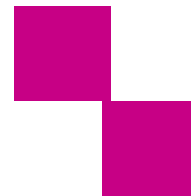

Warm regards,

Gaurav Vahi

School History

Eurospeak Reading was founded in October 1991 by Mr. Michael O'Brien as a school of English as a Foreign Language (EFL). Initially offering evening and Saturday classes for visitors and au pairs working with families in the Reading area, the demand quickly grew, prompting us to expand our schedule to include mornings and afternoons. To support this growth, we assembled a team of skilled teachers, enhancing our reputation for quality education and engaging activities.

Within four years, Eurospeak evolved into an international college, accommodating students who needed visas and developing a full-time schedule of 15 hours or more of tuition weekly. By 1998, we became a national exam centre recognised by Cambridge University.

In January 2019, we opened Eurospeak Southampton, our second UK location, in a historic building just a five-minute walk from the city centre. This vibrant campus continues our tradition of welcoming international students and providing excellent English language education.
